Reds Talk Little Of War, Is Report

Magidoff Gives Angle on Moscow; on Way to New York

Frankfurt, Germany, April 21 (AP)—Robert Magidoff, American correspondent expelled from Moscow, said today Russian leaders apparently hold no belief that war is inevitable.

He heard little war talk in Russia, he told newsmen at a Frankfurt airport where he stopped before flying to New York. He said he had been in London.
Magidoff was asked to leave Moscow last week when his secretary, Brenda Nelson, was quoted as saying to the government newspaper Izvestia as charging with being a spy. Magidoff denied the charge.

Magidoff was employed in Moscow by the National Broadcasting Company and the McGraw-Hill World News.

He said the Russian people are not in a productive work. Asked if Communism is included in the production, he said most of the country's materials to build a Russian economy, such as agriculture and implements.

Discussing the security of war,
Magidoff pointed out that Russia does not have the same opportunity to be vocal as the Americans.

He said also that the Russian people are getting the impression that Russia is surrounded by enemies. He does nothing to imply that the people face another war in the near future.

Magidoff said his own expulsion from Moscow was a spy was only one of a general internal propaganda program to remind the people Russia has enemies.

He said this campaign, carried on by all walks of Russian life, is not to whip up war fears but to emphasize a need for unity and self-reliance in Russia.

Navy Hits Oil

'Gushers' Are Reported in Arctic, One Out of 7 Drillings

Washington, Wash., April 21 (AP)—The Washington state adjutant general says the navy is striking "gushers" in one out of every seven oil wells it is drilling in the Arctic.

Brig. Gen. Ensign Llewellyn, who accompanied from the Arctic laboratory, made the statement after giving an address at the University Press Club.

He said he was at liberty to discuss the navy development of oil fields in the Far North is "normal."

By permit, he said, "I mean
one in every seven wells drilled is a gusher."

He added, however, covers 32, square miles within the Arctic circle stretching out from Point Barrow, Alaska.

Reuther Is Wounded By Assailant

Shotgun Blast Fired at U.A.W. President Inflicts Serious Arm, Chest Injuries

Rewards Offered Union Leader Is Unable to Shed Light on Attack

Detroit, April 21 (AP)—The C.I.O. United Auto Workers today placed a $100,000 price on the head of the stealthy gunman who tried in vain to kill Walter P. Reuther.

Their reward offer followed one for $10,000 by the city of Detroit, launched on a great manhunt for the assailant who fired a shotgun into Reuther's kitchen Tuesday night.

The Auto Workers' president was gravely wounded but his doctors said he would live. They added that he would have his right arm, torn almost off his body by the blast.

Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy mobilized the full strength of his department behind the manhunt. But he had little to go on. Witnesses said the gunman fled in darkness in a "red sedan."

Reuther's private secretary said he recently received two unsigned letters threatening him with harm.

Mrs. Gwen Martinson, his secretary for about six years, said one writer attacked him for his fight against Communism in the ranks of his big C.I.O. United Auto Workers. The other vilified his campaign to admit Negroes to public bowling tournaments.

"He gets a lot of crank letters and I throw these away," Mrs. Martinson said.

Prosecutor James N. McNally said three neighbors of Reuther told him a single man ran aloft to a red sedan idling near the curb at the time of the shooting. The car jerked into motion and sped away.

Jack Harvill, detective chief, said a sawed off shotgun may have been the weapon. It was fired about eight to 10 feet away from the lighted window.

Reuther's physicians said that only the fact that Reuther turned toward his wife at the moment the gun was fired saved him from receiving the slugs in the chest. That sudden unplanned move saved the union leader's life, in their opinion.

Detroit City Council posted a $10,000 reward for the attacker. Reuther's old local, Amalgamated 174 on Detroit's West Side, immediately placed its own $1,000 reward.

Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy ordered the Canadian border between Detroit and Windsor sealed against any escape attempt by the driver of the red sedan.

He ordered a round up of all known Communists in the city, all Reuther's "friends and enemies" and his neighbors in the quiet northwest area where he lives. All will be questioned.

"We are leaving no one out of this investigation," Toy told newsmen, "and that includes management."

Reuther, himself, blamed "management, Communists or a screwball" for the attack.

Toy said he was still in doubt as to whether one or two men carried out the attack.

U.A.W.-C.I.O.'s executive board met in special session, presided by Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey to "spend any amount of money to clear this up."

"We'll get the guy who did it if we have to turn the whole town upside down," he said.

Gov. Kim Sigler promised that the state would "do everything we can to assist in finding the perpetrators of this crime and bringing them to the bar of justice."

The 40-year-old red-haired, aggressive U.A.W. leader has long been an avowed foe of Communism.

Italy To Be Invited

London, April 21 (AP)—Italy's electoral rebuff of Communism may bring her an early invitation to join the Western European Alliance of Nations. Diplomatic quarters expressed this belief today, and officials in Whitehall (the British Foreign Office area) said the invitation may come before the end of April.

New York Ignores Road Perils, 3 Ulster Supervisors Declare

Po'keepsie Man Captured by Dunn In Ashokan Home

Woman's Screams Draw Trooper's Attention; Krause Is Held for Hearing

Screams by a woman at Ashokan brought State Trooper Ray Dunn quickly on the trail of Ralph Krause, 43, of 60 Davis avenue, Poughkeepsie, last night.

The trooper was in Ashokan to investigate a complaint from the Robert Hartley restaurant that a "suspicious" person had been loitering near the place.

Trooper Dunn was in the restaurant when he heard the screams in the Anita Longyear residence only a few hundred feet away. He rushed to the house, he said, and caught Krause as he was attempting to escape by the kitchen door.

The Ashokan woman told the officer that she had heard a noise in the house and when she went to investigate, saw a man standing in a room. Only she and her mother, who had been seriously ill, were in the house at the time she said, and she ran and shouted for help when she saw the man, who had warned her to "keep quiet."

Krause was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge and taken before Justice Lester S. Davis at West Shokan. He was later brought to the county jail pending hearing April 23.

The Hartley restaurant is along Route 28 near the upper end of Ashokan.

No Olive Properties On Tax Sale List; Town Debt Free

The annual tax sale which will be held on June 3, when the county treasurer will offer for sale properties in Ulster county to satisfy unpaid taxes for the year 1946, will have one unusual feature this year. There will be no properties offered for sale for unpaid taxes in the town of Olive.

For the first time since the county has been selling property for unpaid taxes, a township in the county can boast that every tax has been paid and there will be no property in Olive offered for sale.

County Treasurer Jay Riferibary, stated that so far as can be ascertained this will be the first time a town has had all taxes paid and has not been represented in the tax sale listing. Supervisor Claude Weiss of the town of Olive confirmed this statement, and added that not only did the people of the town of Olive meet their tax payments but he pointed out that the town of Olive has no bonded indebtedness and no outstanding certificates of indebtedness. "Our town is debt free," boasted Supervisor Bell.

'Jumping Rubber' Is New Promise for Auto Tires

Chicago, April 21 (AP)—Jumping rubber, made in a flash so fast that it jumps, promises better automobile tires.

The rubber is a new synthetic kind, and extremely tough. It was announced and demonstrated today to the American Chemical Society by Prof. Avery A. Morton of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Dr. Morton had a bottle of butadiene, an oil refinery gas used in making two main kinds of synthetic rubber.

He added a few drops of a chemical to the bottle, stoppered it, then shook it. Suddenly a long snake-like piece of rubber formed, so violently that the stopper was blown out.

The new rubber was born. The secret of its formation lay in the few drops of chemical, which are a catalyst or chemical stimulant. The catalyst is by far the most active and fastest get found for making rubber, Dr. Morton said. Even though it works so quickly,

Two Films Scheduled At Close of Bard Panel

Two films based upon public relations will be shown tonight at Kingston High School Auditorium at the conclusion of the eighth Bard Plan for Small Business panel, which will begin at 7:30 p. m.

The movies are released by the Marshall Field interests and the New York Telephone Company and cover the courtesy phase of business. They will be offered by Robert Case, manager of Reade's theatres, this city.

Featured on tonight's Bard College session will be J. K. Lassor, chairman; Stanley Knisely, moderator and Benjamin Greenberg, principal speaker.

Adirondack Lines Are Reversed by Federal Decision

Interstate Commerce Is Found in Error as Regards Certain Bus Fares

New York, April 21 (Special)—An Interstate Commerce Commission decision which permitted the Adirondack Transit Lines, Inc., of Kingston to take on passengers from Paramus, N. J., to Monroe was ordered reversed by an opinion just delivered in Federal Court here.

The appeal, brought by the Hudson Transit Lines, Inc., of Mahwah, N. J., against the rival bus company, and the Interstate Commerce Commission, sought to void an I.C.C. decision of July 8, 1947. This decision gave Adirondack Lines permission to inaugurate short-haul and commuter service between New York city and points in New Jersey and New York on its authorized route between Paramus and Monroe. Previously, the bus company was not allowed to take on passengers along this route. The Hudson Lines charged on October 13, 1947, that this order allowed the Adirondack Lines to compete with them in territory which had no need for more than one bus company. The commission reaffirmed its decision, however, and Hudson then instituted its appeal in Federal Court.

An unusual feature of the case is the fact that the Commission ruling of July 8 reversed an earlier ruling of July 3, 1946, in which it decided that competition was not desirable.

In the complaint, Attorney Samuel Weiss for Hudson Lines claimed that it had taken ten years to build up a bus service between Paramus and Monroe, and that only recently has it been able to show a profit.

According to the opinion, written by Circuit Judge Thomas Swan, for a statutory court consisting of himself and District Judge Charles F. Bell.

The process can be controlled easily, he declared. The new rubber, named Alfin, eventually may replace all natural and government-synthetic rubbers in automobile tire treads, he said, due to its great strength.

The Alfin has extremely large molecules, two to three times heavier than the molecules of the best natural and synthetic rubbers now used for auto tires, Dr. Morton said. The strength of rubber depends upon the size of its molecules.

One drawback to its use, he said, is that it is so tough that it's difficult to mill or mix with other ingredients used in making tire treads. But Dr. Morton said it was expected that further research would find a way to mill Alfin easily.

The rubber gets its name from its two constituents, derived from an alcohol and a chemical called an olefin. The speedy catalyst is a combination of two chemicals, allylsulfide and sodium isopropoxide.

Russian Disputes With 3 Western Powers Boiling

Blame the British for Plane Crash, U. S. for Rioting in Vienna

By The Associated Press

London, April 21—Russian disputes with the western powers over Germany and Austria were sharpened today with new thrusts and counter thrusts.

In London, a Tass dispatch said a Russian commission has found a British plane responsible for a fatal air crash over Berlin April 5.

In Vienna, the United States and Russia blamed each other for a clash Monday on the streets of the American zone, when three Russian officers attempted to arrest a displaced person in the U. S. sector. American military police wrested the woman from the Russians.

In Berlin, W. T. Babcock, American deputy commander of the city, called his Russian counterpart the biggest spreader of falsehoods "since the time of Ananias."

May Further Split In the British capital, the United States, Britain and France made plans which may further the split between western and eastern Germany. The three powers laid the groundwork for restoring the western section's financial stability and giving it wide governing powers.

The Soviet news agency statement referred to the collision of a British transport and a Russian fighter. All 14 aboard the transport, including two Americans, died. The Russian pilot perished. Tass said the commission found that at the moment the Soviet Yak-3 was on a training flight around the Soviet Duhof Airdrome and, having lowered its undercarriage, was preparing to land.

The British plane, which shot out of the clouds, struck the tail-plane of the Soviet plane with its engines," Tass said.

Blame Red Pilot A British white paper previously blamed the Soviet pilot for the collision. Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the House of Commons Monday Britain would claim full compensation for the crash.

The news agency said the commission found that "the reason for the collision was the British plane's violation of rules of flight and its piercing through the clouds."

A joint British-Russian investigation of the crash broke down when the Russians refused to hear German or American witnesses.

The collision occurred shortly after the Russians ordered severe restrictions on western power rail and highway traffic between Berlin and the western occupation zones.

Express Optimism Official American observers in London expressed optimism today over the first session of the current three-power talks on western Germany yesterday.

High on the agenda are the role of western Germany in the European economy; control of the Ruhr; evolution of the political and economic organization of Germany; provisional territorial arrangements; security against German aggression.

Soviet authorities threatened a break in Russian-American collaboration in Vienna unless an American soldier they said was "guilty of provocative action against Red officers" was called to account.

U. S. Prayers Answered

Albany, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—Governor Dewey says the "smashing triumph of free men" over Communism in Italy was an answer to America's "hopes and prayers." Dewey called congratulatory yesterday to Premier De Gasperi on the "overwhelming victory" of his Christian Democratic party in Sunday's elections.

Highway Condition 'Deplorable,' Is Report; Heavy Use Ahead

Efforts on the part of the three supervisors through whose townships Route 28A, the South Ashokan Boulevard, runs have failed to get any action from the City of New York to make repairs. Promises which were made earlier this season to investigate the condition of the road and take some action, have thus far been ignored and the road is now in a deplorable condition.

Tuesday afternoon the three supervisors through whose towns the road runs held a meeting to plan further action and to seek means of getting the city to make the necessary repairs. Supervisor Claude Bell of Olive, through whose town runs most of the route, and Supervisors Elmer Vente of Hurley and Harry Snyder of Marlborough met to discuss further action.

Earlier this spring the three supervisors called attention of the City of New York to the condition of the road which is badly in need of repairs, particularly from Boiceville to the Ashokan dam where winter frosts have practically eliminated any semblance of macadam.

No Work Started At that time the commissioner promised to have city engineers go over the route and determine what could be done. That inspection was made, but no work has been started.

Several conferences have since been held and at the meeting Tuesday Supervisors Bell, Vente and Snyder decided to demand action toward resurfacing the route. "The road is beyond patching and needs a resurfacing job," said Supervisor Claude Bell, who is becoming supervisor of Olive was the town superintendent of roads and is reputed to "know" roads. He pointed out that the lower end of the road has numerous bad spots, but the upper end from Boiceville to the Ashokan dam is completely worn out and the surface has been cut up badly by heavy traffic.

Numerous complaints have been received by county officials on the dangerous condition of the route and the supervisors of Olive, Hurley and Marlborough have also received many complaints and requests that the City of New York make repairs now before the heavy summer traffic begins to flow.

Was Constructed in 1912 Supervisor Bell stated that the road was built by the City of New York at the time the Ashokan reservoir was built and has been in use since 1912 without rebuilding. Built for 1912 traffic, the road is not capable of carrying present day traffic and the advocates resurfacing it to meet present day needs.

Since it was built there has been some maintenance done by the City of New York but none of the route has been rebuilt. Since the State of New York has taken over the reconstruction and maintenance of Route 28 on the northern shore of the reservoir, the City of New York has been relieved of maintaining that route from West Hurley to Boiceville and local residents are demanding that New York city now put Route 28A in condition.

During the laying of concrete on Route 28, the Ontario Trail this summer much of the traffic on route to the mountains will use either 28A or the Woodstock route. The South Ashokan boulevard, Supervisor Bell said, should be put in condition now before the heavy summer traffic begins.

A visit to New York to take up the matter directly with the commissioner is being planned by the local supervisors.

Work on the Ontario Trail between West Hurley and Boiceville is progressing rapidly, much of the rough grading having been completed during the winter months. Laying of concrete is expected to be started on the lower end by mid-May and the contract probably will be completed by fall.

Public's Interest Is Ruling Basis

Government's Attorneys Say Peril Exists; Judge Says Federal Sources Right

Suit Is Filed Van Horn Would Have Court Given Time to Study Legality

Washington, April 21 (AP)—Judge T. Alan Goldsborough today issued a ban against a soft-coal strike for about 80 days.

This injunction replaces a temporary court order which John L. Lewis was found guilty of violating. It was Lewis' disregard for the temporary order which brought him a $20,000 fine personally and the United Mine Workers a $1,400,000 one yesterday for contempt.

Lewis still faces the possibility of further fines, or even jail, on a contempt count and has telegraphed the miners his wish that they get back to work.

Goldsborough approved the injunction on the plea of a government attorney that "the public interest remains in peril" and a strike still exists.

Meanwhile, coal operators today asked for a court injunction to bar payment of miners' pensions under the recently arranged settlement plan.

Ezra Van Horn, trustee representing the coal operators on the miners pension and welfare fund, said he filed suit to bar payments from the fund until the court has had an opportunity to determine the validity of the pension arrangement made by John L. Lewis and Senator Bridges (R-N.J.), the other two trustees.

Van Horn said he dissented from the pension payment plan negotiated by Lewis and Bridges. That plan calls for $100 a month pensions for miners 62 years or older who have served 20 years in the coal industry. The plan would apply only to miners who reached 62 years on or after May 29, 1946.

Provides Payments The plan provides for payments to miners who worked in mines which do not contribute to the welfare fund. That fund comes from a 10 cents a ton "royalty" on each ton of coal mined from those mines coming into the plan.

Van Horn's plea for an injunction contends that pension payments to miners for whom no contribution had been made to the welfare fund is illegal.

Lewis' lawyers fought against the strike injunction with the argument there is now no strike and that the injunction, issued under the Taft-Hartley law, was unconstitutional.

The Justice department presented coal association officials who testified that many thousands of miners were idle as late as yesterday.

Goldsborough said he thinks the government is right—that the "national peace and safety are still in peril"—and said he had "no difficulty" in deciding to issue the injunction.

The injunction was issued under the Taft-Hartley law which

Insists on Control

I.T.U. Would Regulate 'Varitypers' Before Signing Contract

New York, April 21 (AP)—The A.F.L. International Typographical Union has instructed its New York local to insist on control over "varitype" operators before signing a contract with daily newspaper publishers here.

In a detailed letter, the I.T.U., through its executive council, also objected to other provisions in the tentative contract worked out recently by representatives of the local and 13 major New York city newspapers. The letter was posted last night in newspaper composing rooms.

Most of the objections revolved around what the council termed the agreement's failure to guarantee the union "the maximum protection obtainable" under the Taft-Hartley law and injunctions issued recently against the I.T.U.

TB. Health Dinner Scheduled May 5

Reservations are already being made by various civic organizations and individuals from the city and county for the annual meeting of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association. This year a dinner meeting will be held in the Crystal Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel on May 5.

Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb, chairman of the committee on arrangements today said that the association was most fortunate in securing as the speaker Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, commissioner of health of New York state. Dr. Hilleboe was appointed to this important post by Governor Thomas E. Dewey last June. Before coming to New York state, he was assistant surgeon general of the United States. Shortly after his appointment last June, Dr. Hilleboe served as the American delegate on the Committee on Tuberculosis of the World Health Organization, spending several weeks in Europe studying the tuberculosis problem.

Social Security Display Arranged at Port Ewen

A colorful and informative exhibit on Social Security is being featured this week in the central display window of the Esopus Town Building (Spinnecor's) in Port Ewen.

The attractive display, built around the theme "Social Security Insures," depicts the highlights of the federal old-age and survivors insurance program. It presents important facts about the insurance system, emphasizing the point that old-age and survivors insurance is a "family insurance" since it provides benefits for wives, widows, young children and aged parents as well as for the workers themselves. A significant message in this connection is that there are two main times to inquire about old-age and survivors insurance — 1) when a worker retires at age 65 and 2) when he dies at any age.

The importance of the social security number as the key to each individual's account is graphically portrayed by means of colorfully designed placards. Cartoon character, "Willbur J. Worker," cautions you to "Hold on to your social security card," because you will need it when starting a new job and because it takes time to get a duplicate.

The exhibit was arranged by the Kingston field office of the Social Security Administration located in the Central Post Office Building, through the cooperation of Henry M. Cameron, supervisor of the Town of Esopus.

X-rays Concluded In Saugerties

Fish Creek district, one of Saugerties township's most natural and unspoiled areas, was not without modern innovation yesterday when the mobile X-ray unit of the New York State Department of Health located in front of the school building.

This free beneficial health service is now amid its last week of operation in the Township of Saugerties before the final week of Ulster County X-raying in New Paltz.

Concerning the X-ray survey being conducted in this county, Dr. George James, commissioner of health, recently stated that "science has contributed the necessary equipment and techniques which could lead to elimination of tuberculosis as one of the chief causes of death in this county. But what good is all this knowledge and material if we do not take advantage of such health opportunities as the mobile X-ray service.

"Every person over 15 years of age," continued Commissioner James, "should feel it his personal and public responsibility to take advantage of the free chest X-ray."

New York's Nickel Ride Will Be Ended July 1st

New York, April 21 (AP)—The world's biggest ride for a nickel is doomed.

Announcing a 10-cent fare for the city's subway system and a seven-cent tariff for bus and trolley lines, Mayor William O'Dwyer last night ended a tradition as old as the 44-year-old history of the metropolitan underground railroad.

He said the higher fare would become effective July 1. The increase is expected to furnish $81,000,000 for the city's 1948-49 budget.

In a broadcast over New York City radio stations, O'Dwyer said he had reached the "unavoidable conclusion that in the interests of the city and as a matter of necessity as well as public duty" he was forced to approve the fare increase.

His action was based, he said, on recommendations of the Board of Transportation which cited mounting deficits on the transit system.

The fare hike also was supported by the C.I.O. Transport Workers Union, which recently threatened a city-wide transportation "hup" in demand for higher wages. The union claims to represent some 42,000 transit workers who now get $1.20 an hour but want $1.50.

New Yorkers have puffed their chests in pride over the nickel ride ever since the Interborough Rapid Transit Line from Brooklyn Bridge to 151st street was completed in October, 1904.

Commuters have pointed with guide book delight at the 26-mile ride from New Lots (Brooklyn) to Van Cortlandt Park (the Bronx).

Fares from $6,000,000 or more daily commuters and visitors swelled by annual deficit spending by the city treasury pay the freight for the largest municipally owned and operated transit property in the country.

239 Miles of Lines
The City Board of Transportation has under its wing about 239 miles of Rapid Transit Lines, almost 182 route miles of trolley lines, 133 miles of bus lines in Brooklyn and other bus mileage in Queens and Staten Island.

Altogether the subway system represents an estimated $1,650,000,000 investment. It includes the city-built Independent line, and the I.R.T. and Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit systems acquired from private owners for $328,248,187 in June, 1940.

The independent cost in the neighborhood of $700,000,000. The five-cent fare has been a recurring political hot potato. New Yorkers have been extremely sensitive about raising the fare. Even today some elements of the city's political life oppose any boost.

The Board of Transportation reported an $18,000,000 operating deficit in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1947. That happened in spite of a more than $3,000,000 passenger revenue increase over the previous year.

Wages Are Blamed
The red ink, the board said, was due to 1946 wage increases voted operating employees. Now the 30,500 employees, spearheaded by Mike Quill's Transport Workers Union (C.I.O.) are clamoring for more money.

In addition the city makes good an annual $57,000,000 in interest and principal on subway bonds.

The operating deficit comes out of the city treasury. And the mayor's budget for next year envisages a $52,000,000 subway operating deficit.

Coupled with rising operating costs is the factor of new construction and new equipment to break existing traffic bottlenecks. The board has planned a $400,000,000 Second Avenue trunk line subway to link three city-owned subway systems and cut down rush hour overcrowding.

In March, 1948, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey signed a "wholly permissive" bill which authorized the Board of Transportation and the mayor to boost the fare without a referendum.

Peter Widener Dies Of Heart Illness

Philadelphia, April 21 (AP)—Peter A. B. Widener, 2nd, millionaire fancier of show dogs and race horses, is dead at 52.

He died of a heart ailment yesterday in Lankenau Hospital after a long illness. He had entered the hospital about three weeks ago after having undergone treatment in Maine and Florida.

The sportsman and philanthropist was the son of the late Joseph E. Widener, multimillionaire art collector and race track owner, and the grandson of P. A. B. Widener, financier and transit magnate.

The world famous Widener art collection, which has been valued up to $50,000,000 is now in the National Art Gallery in Washington.

Widener took an early interest in dogs. He began with German police dogs, with his "Doff" becoming a many times champion.

He later switched to horse racing—his father's favorite diversion. His father had been principal owner of both the Hialeah track in Miami and Belmont Park in New York.

In 1913, not long after his father's death, Widener bought "Elmendorf Farm" in the Kentucky bluegrass country. It was there that the elder Widener had bred and trained a succession of race horse champions.

Widener was educated at Chestnut Hill Academy, St. Mark's School, and Harvard University.

Widener is survived by his widow, a son, P. A. B. Widener, 3d, and a daughter, Ella Anne.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 4 p. m. from the Church of the Redeemer in Bryn Mawr. Burial will be private.

$25,000 Bail Is Set For Bronx Auto Salesman

New York, April 21 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice Kenneth O'Brien yesterday set $25,000 bail for David Schiffer, Bronx auto salesman, charged by District Attorney Frank S. Hogan with being the head of a fake accident insurance ring.

The court fixed the figure after Assistant District Attorney Wyllys S. Newcomb, asking for $50,000 bail, expressed the fear that Schiffer might leave town.

Bernard L. Alderman, representing Schiffer, said the district attorney was asking for high bail "in order to break this defendant down."

Newcomb retorted that Schiffer was the "principal culprit" in an alleged ring which the district attorney's office said netted about $200,000 in the past two years by making fraudulent claims against insurance companies. Schiffer is charged with gross larceny.

Newcomb told the court during the habeas corpus hearing, that the purported ring was composed of approximately 30 people including doctors, lawyers and "fixers" in insurance companies.

No indictment have yet been returned.

Murray Confirms Property Reports Except Parcel 40

Justice William H. Murray has made an order confirming the report of Condemnation Commissioners William A. Kelly, Nathan W. Math and Philip R. Murray, Jr., relative to awards made by that commission except Parcel 40, Rondout Paper Mills, Inc. Justice Murray states that this $145,000 award is being held in abeyance for later order of the court.

Objection to the award made by the commission was taken by LeRoy Lounsbury of Lounsbury & Lounstein, attorneys for the paper mills, and when the report of the commission was moved for confirmation before Justice Murray at Albany special term on April 9, Mr. Lounsbury objected to that award being confirmed.

At the time the commission made its report William A. Kelly of this city filed a dissenting report in which he held the award as made by the other two commissioners was insufficient. Chairman Kelly in his dissenting report fixed the damages at $260,000, claiming that before the taking the City of New York the property was valued at $375,000 and after the taking $115,000.

The claim filed by the Rondout Paper Mills, Inc., of Napanoch was for $1,200,000.

Acrobat Dies in What Was Thought New Stunt
Pittsburgh, April 21 (AP)—Spectators thought the fall of James T. Fitzpatrick, an acrobat, was a new stunt. Their applause prevented his final words, as he died of a heart attack, from being heard.

For 40 of his 54 years Fitzpatrick had been an acrobat. Last night at a V.F.W. show here, he dove over four chairs placed in a line and landed on his two hands, feet in the air, on a table. In that position he picked a handkerchief from the table with his teeth.

Ralph Degenes, of Pittsburgh, master of ceremonies, leaned over the fallen man, thinking also it was a gag. He discovered Fitzpatrick gasping for breath.

"He tried to say something to me, but the people were still applauding," Degenes said, "I couldn't hear him."

Goldsborough . . .

permits an 80-day ban on a strike when a labor dispute threatens the national health and safety.

The starting date and closing date for the 80 days was not immediately determined. The injunction itself bears no termination date.

Government lawyers said the 80 days should start when the court's orders have been complied with and the strike ends. They added this date is still uncertain because there still is a strike.

A possible further major development in the whole coal situation was hinted today by Van Horn, who represented mine operators in long negotiations with Lewis over miners' pensions, called a news conference for 1 p. m.

Van Horn did not say what he had to announce. But some mine operators are reported to favor a court challenge of the pension agreement. Lewis and Senator Bridges (R-N.Y.) announced last week. This provides $100-a-month pensions for miners aged 62 with 20 years service.

Some operators take the view that it illegally provides pensions for miners who worked in mines not contributing to a pension and welfare fund.

Van Horn was against the plan as a trustee of the fund. But he was outvoted by Lewis and Bridges, other trustees.

The court fight was before Judge T. Allen Goldsborough who fined Lewis $20,000 personally and the United Mine Workers $1,400,000 yesterday for contempt of a temporary court ban against a strike.

The temporary ban expires Friday. Government attorneys were back in Goldsborough's court asking him to replace the temporary "no strike" order with an injunction running for 80 days. Figured from the time of the original order, this would forbid a mine walkout before July 1. Lewis' lawyers sought to have the injunction proceedings dismissed.

Lewis himself was not in court. He did not have to be there.

But he has another date Friday with Goldsborough. He is to appear then and hear whether the judge will impose further fines, or even a jail sentence, on the civil contempt count.

Yesterday's fines were on a criminal contempt charge.

It was pretty clear that what Goldsborough will do Friday will hinge largely on whether the miners are back at work by then.

Last night Lewis sent telegrams to all district union presidents saying it was his wish that the miners go back to work. The district presidents were passing the word along to individual miners.

Farmers Planning '49 Conservation Program in Ulster

Harry J. Beatty, chairman of the Ulster County Agricultural Conservation Association, announced today that on Friday night, farmer committeemen representing all towns in the county will meet in the supervisor's room at the court house to make plans and suggestions for the 1949 program for Ulster county.

This meeting has been called again this year, Mr. Beatty said, in an attempt to follow up a procedure which has worked fairly well in recent years, namely to get grass roots opinions as to what practices will be the most helpful to Ulster county farmers in conserving soil and water resources.

The National Agricultural Conservation program, includes a great many conservation practices some of which are not adaptable to individual states and counties. Mr. Beatty said the purpose of sorting out and picking out the ones that will best fit the needs here that the farmer committeemen are called to this meeting.

The towns of the county are grouped into 10 different communities. Mr. Beatty continued, with three regular committeemen and two alternates representing each community. This means, he continued, that it is expected that about 30 farmer committeemen from all parts of the county will come to this meeting and plan the 1949 Agricultural Conservation program for this county.

Because soil and water resources are the basic wealth of the country Mr. Beatty said it has come to be recognized that the maintenance of these resources is the responsibility of every man, woman and child of the country and not just the farmer.

In recognition of this fact, Congress has provided some financial assistance to farmers who want to cooperate in conservation farming and many of them would be unable to do needed soil conserving jobs without this assistance.

Many people fail to realize Mr. Beatty said, that even with the assistance provided by our government, farmers still provide the labor and equipment to do the actual work.

About 1,500 Ulster county farmers cooperated with this work in 1947, he said, and it is expected that about the same number will be enrolled this year.

Dinner Club Told Appeasement Not Answer to Russia

Head of Allied Weapons Group Says Lack of Armament Is Betrayal

"The door of appeasement must be kept closed, locked and barred," Col. Stewart-Roddie emphasized in his talk about Europe and foreign affairs to the Kingston National Dinner Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday night. He urged military might, vigilance, and international control.

Col. Stewart-Roddie as a British officer was head of the concealed weapons investigation with the Allied Disarmament Commission in Germany following the First World War. Since that time he has revisited Germany, and traveled through Russia, the Balkans and the other countries of Europe many times. His most recent attempt to "get behind the Iron Curtain" last year was refused by the Soviet government. His lecture last night was the 749th before an American audience.

"Any country that disarms below the point of security is betraying its people and any country that knows there is a danger and does not take effective measures to protect itself and its people," he said. Pointing directly at Russia, he continued, "A combination of force is what the Russians fear; it is what they will not attack. . . . It is that combination of force which should be brought about without any delay whatever."

"Five years and that is the utmost, five years without being stopped and the Russian fifth column will infiltrate in every country of the world," Col. Stewart-Roddie warned. Within that time the Russians also will have developed the atom bomb, he believed.

He likened Communism to an "insidious germ" which cannot be killed but with proper treatment can be controlled. "There can be no compromise with Communism. You stamp your foot on its neck and keep it there or you will let it coil sneakily, sneakily around you until it has you in its grasp," he explained.

The speaker reviewed his personal acquaintance with Communism from his first visit to Russia in 1912. He compared its hold on the people to that of the Nazis in Germany.

Speaking of the only difference, he said, "The Germans did to their people what the Russians don't have to do to theirs. The Germans had to kill the intelligence of the people. The Russians merely have to prevent that intelligence from developing."

Through many visits to Germany following the First World War, Col. Stewart-Roddie watched the growth of Nazism and was in Berlin in 1933, when Hitler made his first appearance and speech at the Sports Palace. Col. Stewart-Roddie gave a vivid account of this meeting in which the stage setting was "historic without equal."

The speaker told of the start of Nazism and "mistakes" of the Allies after the first war in Germany. The disarmament plan had not only destroyed all modern weapons of war, but also any old

Decker-Eigo Nuptials Solemnized At St. Mary's Church

Miss Winifred Kathryn Eigo, 114 Foxhall avenue, daughter of John M. Eigo of Downs street, and the late Nellie Harmon Eigo, became the bride of Edward Chester Decker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Decker, Hurley, Sunday at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. Mr. J. Drury performed the double ring ceremony in St. Mary's Church.

Miss Patricia J. Keefe sang Dan's Angelus, Martin Kelly sang Ave Maria, and Theodore Riccobono was organist. White gladioli were used on the altar.

Mr. Eigo carried his daughter. Her gown of white slipper satin in train was designed in princess style with sweetheart neckline. The French illusion veil was caught to a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried Easter lilies and swansons.

Miss Patricia J. Keefe, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor wore a green gown and carried a muff of yellow daffodils. Other attendants were Miss Elaine Eigo sister of the bride, in lavender and Mrs. James Caruso of Glasco in peach. They carried heart shaped bouquets of peach and lavender carnations with peach and lavender ribbons. All of the attendants' frocks were garnished with tulle. They wore headpieces of tulle and lace mits to match their gowns.

Irwin G. Decker of Hurley was his brother's best man. Ushers were Alexander Banyo, and Joseph Gilday.

A reception was held for 75 guests at Hotel Staybesset where music was provided by Theodore Riccobono's orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. Decker left for a wedding trip to Florida and Havana, Cuba. She chose for traveling a navy blue suit and hat with white accessories and corsage of yellow daffodils. They will live at 114 Foxhall avenue.

Williams, Newburgh, Music Given Prize

In a series of articles concerning the public school music in Newburgh Free Academy written as previews to the big spring concert Thursday night, the Newburgh News has complemented its school music with the following paragraph:

"There are probably few school systems having as highly developed music departments as are found in Newburgh, and much credit can be given to Mr. Williams for his foresight and enthusiasm in developing such a splendid and widely known music department such as is found in Newburgh."

Mr. Williams is conductor of Kingston's Mendelssohn Glee Club, and for many years was organist and choirmaster at St. John's Episcopal Church, Albany avenue.

Among the articles included last week was a story of the Madrigal Singers organized in 1938 by Mr. Williams, solely for the purpose of studying madrigals. The group according to the article is composed of 16 members with maturity of tone, beauty of voice, superior reading ability and exact sense of pitch as requisites. "Consequently they are considered 'top' in musical attainment."

Several former members of the group are now soloists in their respective colleges, Albany State Teachers, Northwestern University, Potsdam State Teachers, and Ithaca College Choir. Last year the Madrigal Singers sang for Christopher Columbus High School in New York city and have sung several times for the Conductors' Club of New York city and also for the Music Research Society of Bridgeport, Conn.

give those students of unusual vocal ability the opportunity to study the finest choral literature and to present it on a professional level.

Also reviewed last week was the work of the Bach Chorus, membership of 110, whose requirements are not so rigid as those for a Cappella Choir. This group will also be heard in the Spring Festival. Compliments were also given to the music directors of the two junior high schools who have developed not only material for the N.E.A. choral groups but also for the instrumental department.

Previously attention was called to the N.E.A. orchestra which was originally organized 62 years ago.

Grain for Whiskey Scored by W.C.T.U.

A discussion of the use of grain for whiskey was an important topic of the Kingston Woman's Christian Temperance Union meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Shultis, 279 Washington avenue.

Mrs. Elizabeth Conaro gave a timely report on the subject taken from the Congressional Record of March 27 in which Drew Pearson said, "While the brass hats demand the drafting of men for the army, they continue to let the big distillers pour out more and more whiskey, despite the fact that the nation's industrial alcohol reserve remains dangerously low."

She went on to report that industrial alcohol was one of the most strategic materials of the late war. "Today only enough is stockpiled to last 10 days if war should break."

Mrs. Samuel Vaughn spoke of the Child Welfare Department which promotes work among little children. She said, "It believes that every child of every race and circumstance is entitled to a home which provides proper sanitation, health and safety, protection, security, love and spiritual training."

Mrs. George Shultis, president of Ulster County W.C.T.U., announced the county institute to be held Friday, May 28 in the Sunday school room of St. James Methodist Church. Miss Helen Estelle, state president, will be the guest speaker. Members named to the committee for arrangements are Mrs. Anna Goodsell, Mrs. Minnie Dunnagan, co-chairmen; Mrs. Marie Gunther, Mrs.
Aida Miller, Miss Elizabeth Saul-pugh, Mrs. Henry Bartsch and

New York, April 21 (P)—Doug Dodson will ride Ben Whitaker's
My Request in the Wood Memorial and again in the Kentucky Derby through the sportsmanship of Jockey Eddie Arcaro and Mrs. Elizabeth Graham.

Mrs. Graham, owner of the Maine Chance Farm, has first call on the riding services of Dodson. When she learned today that Dodson could have the Derby mount on My Request, providing the pair teamed up in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica Saturday, she scratched her Ace Admiral from the race.

And when Arcaro, slated to ride Calumet Farm's highly favored Citation in the Derby, heard of Dodson's chance the Italian riding master said that Dodson could have his seat aboard My Request in the Wood. Arcaro rode My Request in both victorious halves of the Experimental.

"If I was going to ride a horse

A week ago Arcaro road Citation at Havre de Grace where Saggy defeated the Calumet charger. He was in the saddle again Saturday when Citation got revenge.

Barone, Thompson to Attract Huge Crowd

Amateurs Resume Action Thursday

One of the largest turnouts of boxing fans ever at a B'nai B'rith show in the municipal auditorium is expected at Thursday night's card which is loaded with champions.

Ringside seat orders have been pouring in according to Dr. Saul Godfarb, B. B. chairman of the sport, who is especially proud of the matches arranged for tomorrow.

"Our show could be called a carnival of champions," he said as he looked over the list of scraps. Here's how the five rounders shape up:

Tony Barone, Scotchclady, regarded by many as one of the best amateur welterweights in the nation, and a real favorite in Kingston vs. Jimmy Patterson, National A. A. C. champion from New York.

"The Spider" Net Jackie (Spider) Thompson, Buffalo, national Golden Gloves champion in the featherweight class vs. Albert Hunter, metropolitan champion and runner-up in the national.

Jimmy Saxton, New York, national Golden Gloves lightweight champion vs. Harold Morton, Albany, Adirondack Division, A. A.

Golden Gloves champion, and quarter-finalist in the nationals.

Bobby Barnes, Buffalo, Niagara District featherweight champion vs. Ray Fields, Utica, conqueror of Canada's Clayton Kenny, a Kingston favorite.

There will be three three-round preliminaries the first scheduled for 9 o'clock.

Reservations for seats are being accepted at B'nai B'rith clubhouse, phone 5018.

Print Shortage Studied

New York, April 21 (AP)—The American Newspaper Publishers Association turned its attention to the newspaper shortage yesterday, and heard that it has eased a bit in recent months. The A.N.P.A.'s general manager, Cranston Williams, told the publishers at the first session of their 62nd annual meeting that the last 12 months had improved the picture in the newspaper situation. He told reporters later that despite this improvement most papers still are "in a straitjacket."

Wants Schools Probed

Trenton, N. J., April 21 (AP)—A commission to probe Communism and un-American activities in New Jersey schools was named today by Governor Driscoll. Complying with the request of the 1947 Legislature, Driscoll appointed a five-member commission headed by Nicholas H. Memory of Millburn, assistant to the president of Stevens Institute of Technology.

Bowling Scores

The curtain came down on the City Bowling League, Monday night and the next week at the dinner scheduled at the Immanuel Church hall, members of Jack's Restaurant will be treated to a 1947-48 champions succeeding the Colonials.

Pete Koresman's trundlers assured themselves of second place by trimming the Bull Market 2-1 on the Y drives.

Masters Hits 606

Phil Masters' 606 with 213-234-159 was the best series on closing night. Other good efforts were Lou Gundagnola's 213; John "Seabiscuit" Sungi, the day coach chair turning expert, 223-584; Bill Kuehn 217; Dick Howard 235-568; Ray Roux 210; Art Buddenhagen 215; Jack Haulenbeck 238-582; Cliff Quick 201; H. Broskie 210; L. Hynes 201; F. Russano 215-554.

Well, well whaddya know! Marge Jensen, after 31 weeks of furious and incessant struggling, finally managed to lead the Emerald Ladies League in a night at bowling.

The Mayorette leadoff stacked games of 182-156-192 for a 580 trip although her squad dropped a pair to Elstons.

"Two cities" 1900s were recorded in the loop, Jo Smith, finishing with a late season spurge, shot 157-152-204-513; and Elita Ginder 187-183-151. Also worthy of mention were Fay Horne's 175-494; Dot Rawding 171-495; Bea Barley 172-492.

Central Rec League featured "Upset Night" last night as Steins knocked off Hotel Ulster three straight and Turk's Insurance belted the Hofbrau three in a row.

In The Pocket

Bagatelles:

A hundred or more well wishers have asked us the same question since the return from Detroit: "Were you nervous in that last frame?" Are they kidding? Of course, we were nervous. The little gremlins were churning in our stomach and the knees were a little weak. We needed one of those "splash" strikes or lucky hits to pull us out of a spot but the last ball was too high, an obvious sign of pressing. Any other spare but the 6-10 would have suited us. At least we could have bagged a 700 and a spot on that beautiful standing board, the dream of 35,000 bowlers. But we had blown it twice before and looking at it for the third time was just too much.

The friendliness and cheering of the crowd and the Kingston bowlers was very gratifying. Practically every bowler in the Kingston group blew spares all over the place trying to follow our progress. Instead of concentrating on spares they could have easily converted. If we had been here, naturally, to win an A.B.C. title but it was a genuine thrill to come that close. . . . We are gratified by the encouragement and felicitations of the Kingston bowlers and the numerous strangers who stopped us en route to the A.B.C. paddock to congratulate us. . . . National A.B.C. Secretary Elmer E. Baumgarten sat behind us for two solid games when the pressure was mounting, talking A.B.C. "shop" and just about everything except bowling.

Sallies in the Detroit Night:

And we don't mean the feminine gender. . . . A.B.C. Secretary Baumgarten said Harold Broskie could be a helluva bowler "if he could keep his feet untangled." . . . Broskie is the man who slices on runways when nobody in sight is bothered by the planks. . . . Must be invisible gum on his shoes. Prize package of the trip was Jimmy Secreto, a substitute member of the Hotel Ulsters. . . . He shot 579 in the 5-man event and threw a beautiful ball all the way. . . . He had the poise of a veteran in his maiden A.B.C. effort. . . . Clifton Quick made a tremendous comeback after a 134 opener in the 5-man event. . . . He pounded the pocket as hard and as consistently as anybody in the group. . . . John MacLellan of Boston accent fame, Larry "No Beer for You Kid" Foy, Hod Spaulding and Ken Williams, that well known New York Central passenger liaison agent, had hot streaks. . . . The Spaulding-Williams, Quick-Kelder and MacLellan-Weishaupt doubles tandem thrived with big things. . . . Don't ask Kenny what happened in the third game of the solo event.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Fred Rice was around the pocket all the way. . . . A tough bird anyplace, any time. . . . Edwood Robinson had streaks when his ball was clicking beautifully. . . . Dick "Flash" Howard couldn't get his usual pep and suffered a letdown. . . . Ad Jones spent more time watching the scoreboard in the singles than the spectators did. . . . We could have used one of his Y.M.C.A. sweepers in the 10th frame. . . . Fred and Johnny Ferraro looked like he's suffering untold horrors and then they add up his score and discover he has rolled 600 or better. . . . The behavior of the married men on the trip was nothing short of remarkable. . . . The bachelors. . . . well, everybody expects them to be on their good behavior and they never disappoint? . . . Frank "Tarz" Spada's looper was hot in spots but the 15-16 dynamo couldn't get levelled for one of his famous streaks.

Ramon Nadal, the uptown automobile tycoon, flew in via C-47, to take his weekly lesson in gin rummy (are we kidding?) from "Hod" Spaulding, a charter member of that famous Tuesday night purchase club.

Endless commotion was created when the sports editor purchased a bottle of "White Shoulders" perfume for his favorite girl. We couldn't understand all the hubbalo. Buying "White Shoulders" is that bad?

The Start of a New Era:

Kingston bowlers "arrived" in the 1948 A.B.C. For a decade they had been hammering away at A.B.C. sticks with only mediocre success. . . . This time they stirred up some action, grabbed at least $500 in cash prizes and psychologically set themselves up for future events. . . . Greater things can be expected at Atlantic City next spring. . . . Meanwhile the New York state tournament beckons this week-end in Brooklyn where we hope to make new heroes and more money.

MULLIGAN MIKE SAYS: There never was an A.B.C. like the one in Detroit. What else would you expect him to say?

Boy, 10, Escapes Serious Injury in Local Accident

Howard Dawson, 10, of 100 Van Buren street, escaped serious injury Tuesday about 10:40 p. m., when he ran out from the curb on Broadway into the side of one car and then fell to the pavement in the line of traffic of another vehicle, the police said today.

The youth, according to the report, received a bump on the right side of his head. He was taken to the Kingston Hospital for treatment in the emergency ward and then was discharged.

The report was given to the police by Walter Lemister of 34 Elmendorf street, who said that while he was operating his car north on Broadway between Railroad avenue and Thomas street, young Dawson darted out from the curb between two parked cars and ran into the side of his automobile.

Another car, the report continued, operated by Mrs. Helen C. Coon of Box 430, Woodstock, was proceeding directly behind the Lemister car and when Dawson fell to the pavement after hitting the Lemister vehicle, the second car passed over the youth.

Mrs. Coon said she immediately stopped her car and found that the boy was midway between the front and back wheels on the pavement. Dawson was taken to the hospital in the Lemister car.

where it was advised that he remain overnight. The youth insisted that he return home, however. No arrests were made. Both parties were insured.
